Artist Refugee From Great War Shows Art Here

W. A. Sherwood, the Belgian artist, who is now showing his art in the etchings and colored aquatints, at the Hable Gallery, No. 263 Fifth Avenue, was a war victim. He escaped from Antwerp, in the war zone, ten days after the city's bombardment began, and came to this country to forget the riot of desolation wrought in Europe. He has found material in New York with which to engage himself.

He showed us what he could do with European material a year ago at the Arlington Art Galleries, but his New York series is now publicly shown for the first time.

One of the first of this New York series shows the lone traffic policeman, at Fifth Avenue and Forty-second Street. He holds up his gloved hand and the vehicular traffic halts. The print does not show the congested automobiles, the stages and other vehicles, but the imagination easily supplies them. The faculty of the Public Library Building, incidentally, but effectively appears at the right, with pedestrians well grouped and pleasingly shown near the policeman. The colors used are soft and harmonious.

"The Flat Iron" is a fine concept of this famous building. The snow-laden tree branch zigzags across the building, and gives the print an air of informality that is highly effective. The color scheme is well handled.

Paul Philippoteaux, who paints academy pictures, is exhibiting genres, Oriental scenes and other themes that have come from his brush, charged with much charm and careful finish, at the Goupi Gallery, No. 58 West Forty-fifth Street, until May 2.

"An Egyptian Straw Chopper" pictures an Egyptian agriculturalist treating his straw. The canvas is full of pleasing colors, happily combined, and introducing a number of type figures. The Egyptian cattle are well painted and the straw is delightfully stacked against a sky that is deliciously blue. "Arab Horsemen at the Trough" is a spirited rendering of Arabian horses and their riders in characteristic costumes that take on colorful picturesque sequences. The tunnel is an elaborate affair of arched stone work.

"Snake Charmer (Cairo)" is a pleasing treatment of a group in which the snake charmer constitutes the central figure. The ornate architecture of the buildings of Cairo enters well into the background and makes superb settings for the performing snakes and the fakes on his Oriental rug. The flange of the player sits by his side and the spectators crowd about. The canvas is full of good action and well executed atmosphere.

The Thubay Box Gallery, No. 24 East Forty-ninth Street, is holding an exhibition of drawings and sculptures until May 2. There are seventy-five numbers in the catalogue, and fourteen artists are represented. Van Dearing Levine sends some studies he made of Isadora Duncan and a new movement of Nijinsky, of the Ballet Russe, which is tremendous in its conception of dance action. Katharine Beecher Stetson is represented by some painting studies in which much action is developed and registered. The same artist is also exhibiting a few highly pleasing nudes, some sanguine and a number of black and white drawings that are highly decorative in treatment and which introduce nudes and semi-nudes.

Troy Kinney's impression of "Gentle" is very spirited and he has represented her in a well taken pose. Theresa Bernstein has sent a couple of sketches concerned with Adolph Bolm and Lydia Sokolova, of the Ballet Russe company. The sketches represent the Pain and Pierrot motifs. They are touched with color. Maude Stumm's group of eight scenes is both decorative and colorful. The color contributing artists are:

SLUGGISH CIRCULATION MAKES A SLUGGISH MIND

Time Now to Cleanse System of Winter's Poisons—
Prepare for Summer's Heat.

If you are familiar with the workings of an automobile, you know that in order to keep the engine cool it is necessary to CARRY OFF THE HEAT through the CIRCULATION OF WATER. Stop the circulation and the engine would get red hot.

In a way, this is what happens in the human organism. If the circulation becomes slow, sluggish or in any of its way imperfect, mental and physical inefficiency are bound to result.

If the waste matter remains in the system the cells are not renewed or invigorated and as a result we suffer from weakness, lassitude, anaemia, loss of weight and many other sympathetic ills. To enrich and purify the blood so that it will tingle through the system, carrying nourishment to every organ and every cell, and promptly removing the waste matter take malto-ferrin—the new discovery made by a French chemist. He found a way to perfectly combine iron and hypophosphites with other well known tonic and strengthening ingredients so that in malto-ferrin he has produced a palatable, delicious blood purifier that is making people over again.

In the most stubborn cases, malto-ferrin has proved almost miraculous in results. You begin to feel its renewing, revitalizing effect at once. Your appetite is sharpened, your food counts, your strength, vigor and vitality return, you fortify your system against diseases and as a result of these things you are bound to be happier, healthier, more successful in your business and social life.

Don't try to get through the coming summer's terrific heat in your present condition no matter how good you think you feel.

Go to the druggist, get a bottle of this new, delicious tonic and let it speak for itself. If malto-ferrin doesn't do as you expect—If you are not thoroughly satisfied—your druggist is authorized to refund your money without question. Keep this clipping to remind you.—Advt.
